Mary Hasson, JD, is the Kate O'Beirne Fellow at the Ethics and Public Policy Center in Washington, DC, where she also directs the Catholic Women's Forum, an initiative that amplifies the voice of Catholic women in support of Catholic teachings. She writes and speaks frequently on faith, culture, women, sexuality, and family life, and edited Promise and Challenge: Catholic Women Reflect on Feminism, Complementarity, and the Church.

Frank J. Moncher, PhD, is a licensed clinical psychologist in Virginia & Washington, DC. He is currently employed by the Diocese and Catholic Charities of Arlington. Dr. Moncher joined the IPS faculty in 2000, and previously served as Director of Clinical Training and the IPS Training Clinic. His research interests include the integration of Catholic thought into psychotherapy, child and family development issues, and the evaluation of candidates for religious life.

Theresa Farnan, PhD, teaches philosophy at Saint Paul Seminary in Pittsburgh. She previously taught at Mount Saint Mary's Seminary and at Franciscan University of Steubenville. She has served as an advisor to the USCCB Committee on Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth, speaks frequently on topics related to the human person, marriage, family, and gender ideology.
